Challenge Success Annual Conference 2026

I am presenting at the Challenge Success Conference at Stanford on Sunday, September 27 with Kyle Holmes, director of the California County Superintendents' Arts Initiative. Our session will address the ways the Arts and Music in Schools funding is transforming student well-being and engagement. We will be providing implementation data and a framework to strengthen arts programs' alignment to school goals.

The mission of this conference is to partner with school communities to elevate student voice, and implement research-based, equity-centered strategies that improve student well-being, belonging, and engagement. We hope you can attend!

Hammer Theatre Center News

National Geographic Live: Chasing Monarchs student matinee ~ Friday, Oct. 9

The presentation features National Geographic explorer and photographer Jaime Rojo, who will share the remarkable migration story of monarch butterflies and the conservation efforts helping protect them. The program is recommended for students in grades 3–8 and offers a great opportunity to connect science, environmental studies, and visual storytelling.

Student group tickets are available on a first-come, first-served basis, and reduced-price or complimentary tickets, as well as transportation assistance, may be available for qualifying schools.

Here are the links to the ticket request form and a short preview of the program.
