Driving Strategic Projects and Revenue Growth through Grant Strategies under the Santa Clara County Superintendent of Schools: A 15 Year Perspective

Background

This report analyzes trends at the Santa Clara County Office of Education (SCCOE) over the past 15 years, highlighting a strategic shift since 2018 in grant strategies, revenue generation, and strategic project implications.

Key Findings

- Grant Acquisitions: The analysis reveals a significant surge in the total value of competitive grants secured since the current County Superintendent of Schools' appointment in office, representing a strategic proactive shift in grant acquisition strategy.
- Grant Types: Comparative analysis showcases a distinct emphasis on securing grants aligned with the Board of Education's vision and strategic objectives in order to support more students.
- Growth & Sustainability: The County Superintendent of Schools' leadership demonstrates a profound impact on fostering stability, growth, and diversification within ongoing grants, contributing to sustained progress across the agency.
- Revenue Insights: The analysis demonstrates increased revenue by grant type as well as support for Board of Education strategic priorities, highlighting the substantial grant contributions generated.

The SCCOE has been flat funded since 2013, when the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) was implemented. This report demonstrates the vision, strategy, and associated results taken since 2018 to address this challenge. In order to achieve the goals of the Strategic Plan, address priorities of the Santa Clara County Board of Education (SCCBOE) and the County Superintendent of Schools, respond to emergencies and emerging needs, and provide high quality support, alternative funding mechanisms proved necessary. The SCCOE addressed this challenge by advocating for changes in the funding formula and implementing a new strategic vision and direction for grant acquisitions and associated revenue generation to support our students, schools, districts, and communities.

This comprehensive analysis is structured to report the transformations and trends witnessed in grant acquisitions and revenue generation over the past 15 years, under different leadership periods.

County Superintendent of School's Impact on Grant Acquisition, Partnerships, & Special Activities

Prior to the appointment of the current County Superintendent of Schools, the agency navigated a transformative journey, witnessing shifts in leadership and changes in strategic imperatives, undergoing a series of developmental phases, grappling with the state's flat funding structure, and seeking avenues for sustainable growth of special activities in support of meeting unique student needs.

Transformation and Strategic Focus

During the time period preceding Dr. Mary Ann Dewan's appointment as County Superintendent of Schools, the agency's approach to grant acquisitions and revenue generation differed in many ways, reflective of the state funding conditions as well as leadership strategies. Previously, the grant and partnerships work of the SCCOE focused largely on non-competitive, recurring state grants and funding with a very small part of the portfolio from other revenue streams.

Dr. Mary Ann Dewan's leadership marked a significant shift in SCCOE's trajectory in strategic focus and impact. Under her visionary leadership, the agency embarked on a strategic overhaul, emphasizing innovation, strategic alliances, and a proactive approach towards securing competitive grants that align with the board of education and the agency's mission and values, leading to greater impact on our students, families, districts, and community. Throughout SCCOE's journey, particularly since 2018, the significance of competitive grant acquisitions has been vital to fueling special activities, forging stronger collaborative partnerships, and underpinning revenue streams necessary for sustained growth and development.
