CASC Program Rationale

The Santa Clara County Office of Education (SCCOE) believes in transformative learning theory as a means to provide applicable job-alike, task-oriented, problem solving opportunities (Thompson, 2007) for CASC candidates to earn their clear administrative credential. The SCCOE believes the best learning is job-embedded (Davis and Darling-Hammond, 2012). Therefore the training program is built and customized to each candidate’s work needs and responsibilities (national Research Council, 2000; Knowles et al, 2005). Candidates examine data to reflect and determine next steps in their progress as an essential process with their team that includes the coach and the candidate’s supervisor. The process includes reflecting and focusing on best practices (Kouzes, and Posner, 2012). In the first year, candidates are actively involved in deepening understanding and applying CPSELS to current job responsibilities. A coach provides one-on-one support in developing the candidate’s Individualized Leadership Plan (ILP). As a means to introduce a systems approach in addressing goals and objectives, as well as providing feedback, the coach and candidate use a rubric that includes essential components of a GO ACE (Goal, Objectives, Action steps, Checking Points and Evaluation) process/format. This is a cycle of inquiry that incorporates an ongoing improvement approach with feedback as a noted best practice (Fullan, 2001). In applying the theory to practice, the candidates will collaborate with their cohort during a portion of their training sessions.

In the second year of the CASC Program the candidates evaluate their ILP with their coach’s assistance using a rubric to determine growth, needs, focus areas, and next steps (Marzano, Waters, and McNulty, 2005 and Schmoker, 1999). The candidates use a GO ACE process noted earlier in determining a Goal, Objectives, Action Steps, Checking points, and Evaluation. The goals is determined based on individual job responsibilities and the needs of the school/district/county office. The objectives are defined clearly as points and directions of what is going to be done specifically for each objective. The checking points are formative assessment used throughout the year addressing and describing the benchmarks. Lastly, the evaluation is the tool and/or process used to determine the efficacy of the plan (Ladson-Billings and Tate, 2006). The coaches will use a rubric to aid in providing ongoing assistance, guidance, and feedback.

The SCCOE has a core belief in connecting research to practice in collaboration with its partner institutions. The leadership programs are embedded and aligned with the work of local schools/districts/county offices because we believe these relationships form vitally effective practical training (Davis and Darling-Hammond, 2012). We work with each school/district/county office site to ensure that our candidates’ work is integrated to their work at their sites.

We collaborate with our partner schools/districts/county offices to personalize the professional development offerings (Marzano, 2003). A candidate, with the agreement and collaboration of his/her supervisor and CASC coach, may choose two outside training opportunities in lieu of two SCCOE-provided seminars. For example, several of our candidates have chosen to participate in the Harvard Summer Leadership Institute as part of their required individualized professional development component.

In addition, the candidate’s supervisor is key to the development and completion of the required goals that are tied directly to one of the CPSELS, with objectives and action steps aligned.
The coaches are retired administrators who come highly recommended for their accomplishments in the field of education. Coaches have been recruited through recommendations from district superintendents, assistant superintendents, and other education leaders. These coaches receive ongoing training and certification in the nationally recognized Cognitive Coaching Model, an eight-day foundation training consisting of a set of strategies that support ongoing development of individuals and organizations as they become more self-directed and reflective. The training for coaches also aligns the CSPELs and the descriptions of practice outlined in Moving Leadership Standards into Everyday Work (WestEd, Kearney, K. ed. 2015) to their work with the candidates.

Individualized Leadership Plan

With assistance from the coach and input from the immediate supervisor each candidate develops an ILP. The role of the candidate’s site supervisor enhances our collaborative approach in supporting the candidate and provides the coach with a “think partner” in the process (Heifetz and Linsky, 2002). Concomitantly the forms and rubrics have been revised to reflect the new CPSELs.

Coaching

Coaching is the essential element in the CASC Program, forming the cornerstone to transform theory into practice. The personal, confidential work between candidate and coach is structured to build the relational trust (Bryk and Schneider, 2003) and a psychological safety net (Schien, 2004) to encourage candidates to take risks, to see, and to navigate uncharted territory. Candidates meet face-to-face with their coaches, approximately every two weeks as documented by the coaching log. Skype, FaceTime, and video conferencing may also be used for the meetings. Candidates participate in the one-on-one coaching process throughout the two years. Each candidate has an ePortfolio divided into sections that align with the CPSELs. Candidates include their reflection on each standard, describing what each standard means (in their own voice) and how the standard will be applied, while noting and documenting examples as evidence. Candidates upload artifacts as evidence of their roles in action steps toward meeting the goals and reaching proficiency for each standard. Coaches use the ePortfolio rubric to assist and guide candidates in developing (Thompson, 2013), using, and evaluating their ePortfolios. While candidates received ongoing feedback from their coach on their ePortfolio throughout the two-year program, at the end of the candidate’s second year two additional coaches from the program formally evaluate the ePortfolio. The candidate’s coach is present at that evaluation to discuss any questions or concerns. If a candidate fails to meet all standards she/he is provided additional time, direction, and support to address any shortcomings.

Professional Development

The SCCOE provides 20-30 hours of professional development annually through four seminars in both Years 1 and 2. Follow-up that addresses needs common to all beginning educational administrators is done annually. The seminars explore and deepen the understanding of elements of the six CPSELs. Additionally there are sessions devoted to Human Resources, Educational Code and the Law, Budget Development, Teacher Evaluation, and other topics. There are also seminars to provide differentiated learning opportunities as outlined in the candidate’s ILP and training that integrates theory and practice. The coaches are active participants in our training sessions, forming teams with their candidates to enhance a bit of healthy, spirited competition and esprit de corps.
Assessment
The program incorporates initial, formative, benchmark, and summative assessments into the program design providing opportunities for the candidate to demonstrate competencies to the coach and immediate supervisor in all areas of the CPSELs. This includes monitoring and providing ongoing feedback to the candidates consistent with evidence-based practices (Ladsing-Billings and Tate, 2006). Currently levels of competency are continuously monitored in a formative manner in the coaching sessions and in a summative manner through the assessment done annually by the coach and the candidate with the ILP. With the assistance of the coach the candidate completes an Assessment of Proficiency on the CPSELs at the beginning of the program, at the end of Year 1, and at the end of Year 2. The levels include:

- Level 1: practice that is directed toward the standard
- Level 2: practice that approaches the standard
- Level 3: practice that meets the standard
- Level 4: practice that exemplifies the standard

The coach assists and supports the candidate in increasing proficiency on the CPSELs. Ongoing informal assessment occurs regularly at the coaching session. The candidate must have an overall average of 3 to demonstrate proficiency on the CPSELs.

At the end of the two-year program the director of the program and the coaches meet to review each candidate’s progress which is assessed through multiple measures (Kouzes and Posner, 2012) including the following: self-assessments with input from the coach to measure proficiency growth on the CPSELs; an examination of the candidate’s success in reaching goals on the ILP; participation in the coaching process; a record of artifacts, evidence, and documents providing examples of candidate’s efforts and accomplishments; a record of completion of 20-30 hours annually of professional development seminars and training(s); self-assessment in written reflections; and an ePortfolio evaluation review. Upon successful review of the above the director of the program and the evaluating coaches will collaboratively verify that the candidate has met all program expectations and developmental objectives included in the ILP.

Demonstration of Competency
All documentation and evidence used to demonstrate candidate competence in the CPSELs must be job-embedded and must clearly indicate the candidate’s direct involvement or authorship. Evidence may be in the form of PowerPoint presentations, videos, meeting agendas, authored policy recommendations such as proposals to implement Restorative Justice, professional readings and reflections, artifacts from interventions or initiatives, and data used to justify initiatives. All candidates complete an ePortfolio addressing at least one area of each CPSEL.

Clear Administrative Services Credential (CASC) Program

CASC is an individualized, job-embedded program. It is primarily coaching-based and includes an ILP, professional learning, and ongoing assessment.

Candidates will engage in a two-year program that requires each candidate to participate in a series of seminars and one-on-one coaching at his/her respective school/district/county office site. A coach will be provided to each candidate. The candidate will attend 20-30 hours of seminars/training annually in pre-selected areas corresponding to the CPSEL and may replace 10 hours with elective professional development in areas of her/her choosing, when approved by the coach. The coach will work with each candidate throughout the two-year program. Each candidate will be required to maintain an ePortfolio containing an ILP, reflections, candidate information, artifacts, assessments and coaching logs. Upon successful completion of the two-year program the candidate will be recommended to the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing to be granted the Professional Clear Administrative Services Credential.

Phase 1: Admission Requirements
Submission of application materials by eligible participants are to include:

- Completed application
- Questionnaire completed by the candidate on the context of school, district, or county office (depending on location of administrative position)
- Proof of Preliminary Administrative Services Credential
- Proof of Administrative Employment (CL777 form)
- Professional resume including, but not limited to: education, work history, leadership experience, honors and awards, and parent/community involvement
- Personal reflection: applicant is asked to reflect on his/her strengths and areas of need as an administrator within the context of the workplace. The intent of this reflection is to give the candidate the opportunity to share his/her perceptions, for the program to gain information to use when individualizing the CASC Program, and for the Program Administrative Coach to use in matching the coach to the candidate.

Phase 2: Performance Expectations through the Program
The candidate’s performance expectations will be assessed through multiple measures including the following:

- Self-assessments with input from the coach to measure proficiency growth on the CPSEL
- An examination of the candidate’s success in reaching goals on the ILP, assessed by the coach and using data, artifacts, and reflections
- Participation in the coaching process (coaches’ logs are used to verify coaching sessions)
- Formal and informal individualized comments and feedback from candidate’s coach
- Record of artifacts, evidence, and documents providing examples of candidate’s efforts and accomplishments
- Completion of 20-30 hours of professional development annually using verification of attendance documents
- Self-assessment in written reflections
- ePortfolio review

Candidates have the opportunity to develop evidence of progress based on current program, site, or district priority in the writing of his/her goals associated with the workplace responsibilities.
Phase 3: Completion Phase
The identified steps for candidates to receive certification upon completion of the program are as follows:

- Increased proficiency on the CPSEL
- Successful completion of the ILP
- Participation in the coaching process (coaches’ logs are used to verify coaching sessions)
- Completion of required professional development hours
- Successful completion of the ePortfolio (the coach monitors progress on the ePortfolio on a regular basis during the two-year period)

Reflective ePortfolio
Canvas LMS is used to house candidates ePortfolios. The ePortfolio provides the candidates with the opportunity to reflect on the professional development, coaching activities and progress toward their CPSEL goals. Candidates may also document their current leadership experiences and reflect on them in a manner that captures their learning. EPortfolios are required of all candidates and is viewed as a significant part of the candidates reflective practice as an instructional leader.

Support
The Program Administrator will guide participants through the processes necessary to complete the program. The administrator works with the coaches to monitor the progress of each participant. The coach reviews the progress of each candidate throughout the two-year program and provides support and assistance as needed. Data used to further support the candidates include evaluations from the seminars (formative assessment), observations from the coaches and site administrators, and end of the year evaluations of the CASC program (summative assessment).

Acts of Dishonesty
All people participating in the Administrative Credential programs are expected to pursue honesty and integrity in all aspects of their academic work. Academic dishonesty, including plagiarism, falsification of records or documents, personal misrepresentations, theft, and evasion of program financial obligations will not be tolerated.

Attendance
Regular attendance is required and expected. The candidate agreed upon attendance is for the benefit of your own learning as well as the learning of others in the cohort. Instructor facilitation, presentations, classroom exercises, and discussions are essential parts of the educational experience for each class. Therefore, candidates must make every effort to attend all seminar meetings and coaching sessions. Candidates who miss assigned seminar or coaching sessions will need to make up the missed hours of instruction. In the event of an emergency please contact the director to determine the impact of the absence on completion requirements.
Board Policies
There are Board Policies available for review from the SCCOE regarding the following situations:

- Emergency Procedures
- Complaints Regarding School Personnel
- Equal Opportunity Employment
- Violence and Threats in the Workplace
- General Harassment Including Sexual Harassment
- Drug Free Workplace Awareness Policy
- Tobacco Free Environment Policy
- Uniform Complaint Procedure

Business Office Procedures
1. Program Refund Policy
   a. Deposits are not refundable.
   b. Refunds are not available after the first 90 days of admittance into the program.
2. Candidates who are not able to participate due to personal or family illness, maternity or paternity leave, death in immediate family, relocation due to job transfer, or other family or personal crisis that prevents them from successfully participating in the program may receive credit for the length of time in the program. If they are able to return to the program they may resume where they left off. It is the responsibility of the candidate to communicate with the Program Director if an issue is preventing him/her from completing the program.
3. The cost for the two-year program is $7,000 – payable to SCCOE. The cost may be paid by the candidate or district (depending on candidate’s arrangement with district).

Students with Disabilities
Candidates with disabilities are eligible for reasonable accommodations in their academic work in this program. In order to receive assistance the candidate must provide Human Resources with documentation that describes the specific disability (i.e., psychologist, physician, or educational diagnostician). Candidates with disabilities should contact the Program Director to discuss academic and other needs as soon as they are diagnosed with a disability. Once documentation is on file arrangements for reasonable accommodations can be made.

An ILP is created for candidates with special needs in collaboration between and among the candidate, the coach, and the director of the program. Special needs may include physical disabilities or a learning disability.

Emergency Procedures
All candidates are required to complete an emergency procedure form and turn it into the program office prior to the first day of the first seminar.
Grievance and Appeals Process
Should a candidate question prerequisites for program participation, program requirements, participation hours, special needs provision, discrimination policy, program extension request rationale, satisfactory progress requirements and/or denial of Professional Clear Administrative Services Credential, a meeting should be held with the Program Delivery Director and the concern put into writing. The concern should then be forwarded to the Program Director who will review concerns, discuss concerns with involved candidates including the program candidate and the representative of the participating district. Following discussion and review of the concern a decision will be made regarding the grievance. The decision will be final and will be forwarded to the participant.

Placement
Coaches are matched to individual candidates based on the background, experiences, and expertise that will best assist the candidate. Based on the information gained from the candidate’s application including a description of the school/district/county office context, the reflection on strengths and areas of need, and the candidate is matched to the coach who can best coach him/her to success. For example a candidate who is an elementary principal would be matched with a coach who had experience and expertise in that area. A middle school administrator candidate who works with a large population of ELD students would be matched to a coach with middle school experience and ELD. A special education coordinator would be matched to a coach with a background in special education. There may be times because of geographical issues that a coach would be placed with a candidate because his/her geographical area rather than background and experience. When this happens the Program Administrator works with the coach to make sure the professional needs of the candidate are being met.

Appendix B Assessment of Proficiency-CPSELs

You will do an assessment of your proficiency (with the assistance of your coach) on the CPSEL three times during the Administrative Tier II Clear Credential Program: Pre-assessment within 90 days of your administrative position; Mid-program assessment at end of Year 1; and Post-assessment at end of Year 2.

Directions: With the assistance of your coach, use Moving Leadership Standards into Everyday Work by WestEd to self-assess your proficiency CPSEL. Read the specific descriptions regarding the six standards and the behaviors of leaders in relation to the standards. Each standard displays the elements of the standards and a description of practice which are laid out on a continuum that illustrates increasing skill levels, application, and results. These differentiate four levels of leadership development:

- Level 1: practice that is directed toward the standard
- Level 2: practice that approaches the standard
- Level 3: practice that meets the standard
- Level 4: practice that exemplifies the standard
