Preparing for Summer Learning

Summer isn't just about relaxation; it's a time for experiential learning, discovery, and growth.

Walden West has summer programs that encourage the wonder of science and nature while supporting youth in developing leadership skills, relationship-building, and environmental advocacy. There may be costs associated with the program.

If you are looking for childcare resources, check out the Santa Clara County Resource and Referral (SCC R&R) Program. This resource has up-to-date information about licensed childcare providers for children of all ages to best meet your needs during the school year, as well as for after-school and the summer months.

If you don't plan on joining a summer program, but are looking for fun, free, and inexpensive activities, consider some of these places to visit in the San Jose area.

- The Local Library
- Children's Discovery Museum
- Happy Hollow Park and Zoo
- Baylands Nature Preserve
- Ardenwood Historic Farm

Make this summer a time of growth, exploration, and fun for our youth.
