

Continuing Threats to DACA

Though the Biden Administration has been clear about its commitment to protecting DACA and creating a pathway to permanent residency and citizenship for DACA recipients, there is still an ongoing court case in Texas that could impact the future of the DACA program.

The case, Texas v. Nielsen, is challenging the validity of the DACA program. Texas v. Nielsen recently held a hearing on 12/22/2020 but there has been no decision on this matter.
