Preparing healthier meals that are tasty can be easy if you take some simple steps. Keeping the quality of the recipe is also important, so you may choose which steps to take and what changes to make.

Step 1: IDENTIFY those ingredients (foods that are to be used in the recipe) that are high in fat and calories. Circle or check the ingredients.

Step 2: REMOVE ingredients that if left out would not change the quality of the recipe. Examples: nuts, coconut, frosting, bacon, oil, margarine or butter, eggs, sour cream.

Step 3: REDUCE the amount of ingredients that are high in fat and calories and can be reduced without losing the consistency of the recipe. Examples include: use less ground meat and add beans, reduce the amount of fat (oil, margarine, butter).

Step 4: SUBSTITUTE ingredients which are lower in fat and calories.

Examples:
- Extra lean meat, turkey or chicken
- Low fat milk
- Light margarine
- Light sour cream or plain low fat yogurt
- Light or low fat mayonnaise

Fat free products are not recommended since they may affect the quality of the product.

Step 5: Healthier methods of cooking are those which reduce the amount of fat or calories of the food or limit the amount of fat added to the recipe. Suggested methods of cooking include baking, broiling, steaming, poaching, microwave, barbecue and any other methods which reduce fat. Always remove the skin from chicken or turkey before serving.

Wow! There goes Power Panther!

He's fast! Way to go, Power Panther!

Hold it right there!

How can you do that?!

Do what?

I've been watching you all afternoon. You've played one soccer game after another. How do you still have enough energy to skate home?

It's no secret. I've got the right balance.

I hardly have enough energy to walk home. What's your secret?

Is that why you're sitting on the ground?

Uh, not that kind of balance. If I want to play hard, I need to eat smart. When I eat smart, I have the energy to play hard. See? That's good balance.

What do you mean, Eat Smart? I've never heard that before.

Well, I start with getting enough fruits and vegetables, whole grains and low-fat milk at meal times. I choose fewer sweets, sugary drinks and salty snacks.

That's all? What about the "Play Hard" part?

Just have fun being active every day. Start with something easy, like riding your bike or jumping rope.

Soon you'll have energy to try new things. Your friends will find it hard to keep up with you.

OK, I'll try it.

Will you get these for me, mom?
Whoa there! Slow down!

Sorry, Mom! I didn’t see you.

You’ve been running around so fast lately that I can’t keep up with you.

I’m learning how to balance.

Balance what?

Power Panther told me I would have more energy if I balance food and play. Now I eat more fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and low-fat milk. It’s fun!

Seeing how you’ve changed makes me want to try it too. Our whole family should learn how to balance.

All we have to do is Eat Smart, Play Hard. C’mon, I’ll show you.

A few weeks later...

Wow! Great shot!

Hey! How did you do that?

I’ve learned how to balance!

That’s great! I knew you could do it.

And my whole family is doing it, too. We’ve started doing all kinds of things together.

We’re eating smart and playing hard. We’re having lots of fun.

Ready to try for another goal?

You bet! Let’s go!
Power Panther shows Change is Good!

Now that you have read the comic, see if you can answer these questions about it!

1. What does the girl ask the Power Panther at the beginning of the story?

   a) How to get an “A” on her math test.
   b) How to be the best volleyball player in school.
   c) Where he gets his energy to play so much.

2. What does the Power Panther tell her?

   a) He studies hard to get good grades.
   b) He has good balance.
   c) He gets plenty of sleep each night.

3. What does the Power Panther mean by “balance”?

   a) Start taking gymnastic classes.
   b) If you want to play hard, then you need to eat smart, and when you eat smart, you have the energy to play hard.
   c) He never explains it.

4. What does the girl do?

   a) She starts eating fruits, vegetables, whole-grains, and low-fat milk, and makes sure she is physically active every day.
   b) She sits down and watches her favorite TV program.
   c) Goes to a friend’s house to do homework.

5. What happens to the girl after she begins doing this?

   a) She learns how to sew.
   b) She goes on vacation with her family.
   c) She has more energy to play and do things with her family.

ACTIVITY INSTRUCTIONS

Fitness Circuit 1

- Place cones with signs taped on them within the play space (square or circle pattern).

- Establish the boundaries in the space that will be used and inform the players that they must go in that specific direction for the circuit.

- Divide the players into 6 groups, and assign one group to each cone.

- Spend a few minutes explaining and demonstrating how to do each activity.

- Have the children spend 1 to 2 minutes per station, with 30 seconds to travel between each station.

Stations:

Big Swing: Stand with your feet shoulder-width apart and knees slightly bent. Bending at the waist and knees, swing both arms between your legs, reaching backward as far as possible. Change directions of the arm swing, moving both arms in front of your body and then up and over your head and back as far as possible.

Big Steppers: Standing and staying in one place, take big marching steps (exaggerate bringing knees toward chest).

Big Curls: Standing with feet shoulder-width apart, arms hanging relaxed to the side look at your belly button by curving your backbone slightly. Tighten your stomach muscles and hold for five counts, then stand straight, relax five counts and repeat.

Big Jumps: Pretend that you are standing on the back of an imaginary box. Jump over the box going forward, and then jump to the side, backward, and to the other side, in a pattern like you were jumping over the edges of the box.

Big Apples: Stand with feet shoulder-width apart and hands on waist. Reach with one hand as far to one side as possible; pretend you are picking an apple off a high branch on a tree beside you. Now move that apple above your head and put it in a pretend basket on the opposite side of your body.

Big Circles: Jog in your own circle forward, backward, sideways facing in, sideways facing out. Repeat. Remember to stay in your own space.

- At each cone you will do a different exercise until the signal. When the music stops (or the whistle blows) you will run to the next cone and do the exercise for that cone.

- Everyone will travel in a clockwise direction (Point).

- When the signal starts, what should you be doing? (Exercising).

- When the music stops, what should you be doing? (Running to the next cone).
