

Join Us for Three Powerful and Empowering Leadership Workshops with an Asian Pacific Islander (API) Focus

(register for each workshop separately – space limited)

Assertive Communication (October 27, 2020)

Presenter: Linda Akutagawa, President and CEO,
Leadership Education for Asian Pacifics, Inc. (LEAP)

Do you hate to “make waves?” Are you succeeding in making yourself heard? Asian Americans who do top-notch work may sometimes find themselves being overlooked because they do not assert themselves in the workplace as effectively as other employees. Participants will explore the influence of Asian culture and values on beliefs and attitudes around assertive communication and develop an understanding of assertive communication through practices and role plays.

Closing the Confidence Gap (December 1, 2020)

Presenter: Linda Akutagawa, President and CEO,
Leadership Education for Asian Pacifics, Inc. (LEAP)

Now more than ever, Asian Americans are accomplishing more professionally, economically, educationally and socially. Yet many Asian Americans continue to be overlooked or passed over for leadership roles or interesting and high-profile projects. Join us for an interactive discussion on the confidence gap and an exploration of the strategies, tactics, and actions that you can adopt, hone or use personally and professionally.

The Art of Confrontation (March 4, 2021)

Presenter: Calvin Chen, Executive Leadership Coach,
Coaching International & Leadership Education for Asian Pacifics, Inc. (LEAP)

Have you ever had to confront others for bad behavior, or missed expectations? Disappointments and broken promises can have negative consequences on you or others and being ineffective at addressing the situation allows the problem(s) to persist! In this workshop, learn how to deal with these scenarios in a way that gets results, strengthens your relationship, and establishes you as a leader.
